

Book Club Questions Twice by Mitch Albom

1. Alfie's choices often blur the line between love and obsession. Do you think his actions were selfless or selfish - or a mix of both?
2. Gianna grounds the story in reality, while Alfie keeps chasing what might have been. How do their differences shape the balance in their relationship?
3. If you had Alfie's ability to go back and relive moments, would you use it to try to hold onto someone you love - even if it changed their fate?
4. Trust and fate play considerable roles in their story. How does Gianna's trust (or lack of it) in Alfie evolve as he keeps rewriting time?
5. By the end, what do you think Gianna truly wanted from Alfie - love, honesty, or freedom? How does your answer change how you see their love story?
6. The rule that true love can't be re-done adds such a heartbreaking twist. Do you think this makes Alfie's gift more of a blessing or a curse?
7. When Alfie learns he can't make Gianna fall in love with him again, what does it reveal about the nature of love and destiny? Do you believe real love is something that can't be recreated, no matter what you change?
8. Alfie's gift lets him rewrite moments of his life, but at what cost? Do you think having the power to undo mistakes helps him grow - or does it keep him from truly learning and moving forward?
9. Detective LaPorta adds an intriguing layer to Alfie's story. How does his presence challenge Alfie's choices and force him to confront the consequences of his gift? Do you see the detective as a threat, a guide, or something in between?
10. The ending leaves a lasting impression. Did you find it satisfying or bittersweet? How did it change the way you felt about Alfie's journey and his love for Gianna?
11. Forgiveness plays a subtle but powerful role in Alfie's journey. By the end, do you think he truly forgives himself - and what does that say about the cost of regret?
12. This story tugs hard at the heart. What moments or themes hit you the most emotionally - and why do you think Twice stays with readers long after they finish it?
